Honouring killed women in Parliament on International Women's Day

Minister for Safeguarding Jess Phillips reads the names of women suspected to have been murdered by men during International Women's Day debate.