

Hot cars, hot luggage: why where you store your medicines matters this summer

As part of the 'Summer-proof your health' campaign, the MHRA is reminding people that heat and poor storage, at home or while travelling, can affect how well some medicines work.