

Housing Authority's response on three public housing projects

The following is issued on behalf of the Hong Kong Housing Authority:

In response to media enquiries on the three public housing projects, a spokesman for the Hong Kong Housing Authority (HA) today (June 18) gave the following response:

The HA noted the decision of the Court of First Instance of the High Court in favour of Aggressive Construction Company Limited (ACCL)'s application for an interim stay of the execution of the Building Department's decision to remove ACCL from the register of general building contractors, and the Building Department's follow up actions regarding this decision. In light of the latest developments, the HA is actively reviewing for practical arrangements and procedures to complete the remaining works, so that citizen in need can move into the public housing units at the earliest possible and minimise the impact on the waiting time for public rental housing.
