

Housing measures introduced to protect poultry and other captive birds

UK Chief Veterinary Officer puts in place mandatory housing for poultry in north, central and east of England