

Huge biosecurity centre investment to boost pandemic protection

A new world-leading biosecurity centre in Essex will protect the UK from emerging public health threats and boost economic growth.