

Husband-and-wife directors banned after taking payments for singing waiters when company was insolvent

The company continued to take deposits and full payments when it was insolvent