

Independent investigation to be launched to tackle rising youth inactivity

An independent investigation will be launched to tackle the persistently high numbers of young people out of work, education and training, which ministers have warned is a "crisis of opportunity".