

Insolvency Service returns £42.7 million to the economy and strengthens action against financial wrongdoing

Annual report shows stronger enforcement activity, improved support for people in debt and continued investment in modernising services