

Investigation into charities run by designated person results in over £1.3m redistributed to good causes

The Charity Commission has concluded its statutory inquiries into the Kantor Foundation and Kantor Charitable Foundation, finding neither charity remained viable after the designation of the charities' founder, Dr Vitachesla...