

Investment in British AI companies hits record levels as Tech Sec pitches UK as global magnet

British AI companies attracted record investment last year, driving the government's Plan for Change.