

It's in everyone's interests for the UK to get the best Brexit deal possible

One year on from the Brexit vote and the talks between the UK and our European neighbours have finally begun.

Already, this weakened Tory government is on the back foot.