

Kenya and UK hold workshop to improve business regulation and put shillings in people's pockets

Three-day workshop will equip officials with policy tools to improve regulatory environment and overcome barriers to attract investment and growth