

Landmark report sets out action to address key skills gaps

Skills England has published its first Annual Skills Report, providing the most comprehensive picture to date of current and future skills demand across England