

Largest testing programme for coronavirus shows virus continued to decline in June

The second monthly REACT-1 report from Imperial College London and Ipsos MORI has been published, showing how the virus has spread in England.