

Leading lights of UK research spearhead search for world's best talent

12 leading universities and research institutions selected to deliver government's £54 million fund to recruit world's top researchers.