

Lendal Arch reopens following flood defence works

A major river route in York city centre has reopened following the completion of flood defence works by the Environment Agency.