

Local public health services given £200 million boost

Local communities to receive funding for family and school nurses, sexual health clinics and other public health services.