

Major £5 billion technology investment accelerates UK defence innovation in a European first

More than £4 billion drive towards autonomous systems to shape UK military future and boost export potential, supporting the Plan for Change