

Major NHS update brings menopause into routine health checks

Menopause advice will be added to free health checks to help millions of women get the care they need.