

Manchester Digital Campus gets green light

A major government office complex has been given planning consent to be built in Manchester.