

Many vacancies on offer at New Opportunities-New Terrain Job Expo

The Labour Department, together with the Hong Kong Chinese Enterprises Association and Hong Kong Polytechnic University, will hold a large-scale job expo at Hong Kong Polytechnic University on October 29 and 30.

Around 40 enterprises from different sectors, including banking, insurance, communications, business services and real estate will join the expo. The vacancies offered cover a wide variety of positions such as bank officer trainee, product engineer, management trainee, actuarial analyst, programmer, business analyst, administrative clerk and customer service officer. Job seekers can find more information on the department's Interactive Employment Service website (www.jobs.gov.hk).

Most of the vacancies are full-time jobs. A large proportion of vacancies require a secondary education level and are suitable for young job seekers with a post-secondary education. In addition, the job expo provides other career information such as the Working Holiday Scheme to help young people seize different development opportunities.

The job expo will run from 11am to 5.30pm at Podiums CF, FG and FJ, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hung Hom (near Hung Hom MTR station Exit A1 or D1). Admission is free.
