

Marine Pollution Incident Resilience workshop begins in Honiara

It brings together key stakeholders to enhance local and regional collaboration, communication and strengthen environmental response capabilities.