

Mayors to lead the charge for thousands of new social homes

Mayors outside of London to be given greater influence over the government's historic £39 billion Social and Affordable Homes Programme.