

Men urged to talk about mental health to prevent suicide

Health and Social Care Secretary set out actions being taken to prevent suicides in a speech at suicide prevention charity Papyrus's headquarters in London.