

MHRA announces proposals to improve access to world's best medical devices for patients and to boost economic growth in Britain's med tech sector

The MHRA has now published the government's response to its public consultation on future routes to market for medical devices – designed to modernise regulation