

MHRA updates guidance on the Health Institution Exemption to support safe use of medical devices

Updated MHRA guidance will help health institutions, such as NHS Trusts and Boards, safely design and make general medical devices for patients.