

Hungry, thirsty and humiliated: Israel's mass arrest campaign sows fear in northern Gaza

DEIR AL-BALAH: The Israeli military has rounded up hundreds of Palestinians across the northern Gaza Strip, separating families and forcing men to strip to their underwear before trucking some to a detention camp on the beach, where they spent hours, in some cases days, subjected to hunger and cold, according to human rights activists, distraught relatives and released detainees themselves.

Israeli military admits killing 3 hostages by mistake during an 'intense battle' in Gaza

JERUSALEM: The Israeli military mistakenly killed three hostages being held in Gaza by Hamas during an incident which is "under review," a military spokesperson said on Friday.

The military said the hostages were killed during combat with militants in Gaza and expressed its condolences to the families while saying there would be "full transparency" in the investigation into the incident. A statement from the military said the hostages were killed during an intense battle with Palestinian militants in Gaza.

Maersk says its container vessel was targeted by a Houthi missile off Yemen, but the ship was not hit

COPENHAGEN/DUBAI: Danish shipping company Maersk on Friday denied a claim by Yemen's Iran-aligned Houthi movement that the militia carried out a drone strike on a Maersk vessel sailing toward Israel.

Communication blackout in Gaza amid Israeli bombardment

JEDDAH: Internet and telephone services were cut across the war-torn Gaza Strip on Thursday as Israel's bombardment took more Palestinian lives.

Palestinian PM calls for international intervention to end the decades-long conflict

RAMALLAH, West Bank: International pressure on the Palestinian Authority (PA) to overhaul its leadership and step up reforms are a distraction from the need for a political horizon to lay the basis for peace after the Gaza war, Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Shtayyeh said.
