

More families to benefit from lower bills through plug-in panels

Retailers join government plans to bring plug-in solar panels to UK homes, helping families save money on bills.