

More than half a million secured for environmental improvements

Northumbrian Water pays £550,000 for environmental improvements following two separate pollution incidents.