

National Housing Bank and Aviva to invest £100 million to build thousands of high-quality family homes in UK towns and cities

The first sites in Liverpool and Manchester will see 300 aspirational homes built on brownfield sites in well-connected locations in boost to regional economies and communities.