

Nearly £50 million government backing to power up drone and flying taxi tech and crack down on illegal drones

Funding will help develop a numberplate ID system for drones, helping police better protect UK skies and prosecute illegal users.