

Nearly three in five parents expect children's physical activity to drop this winter as stars back new campaign to keep kids active

Government launches 'Let's Move!', a new campaign supported by Sport England, to help keep families active together all year round.