

New ambulances deployed to boost NHS winter response

More than 500 new ambulances will be deployed in England to cut response times for patients in every region.