

New data laws will make life easier for British people, cutting life admin, easing traffic and speeding up roadworks

British people will benefit from new laws which will make their day-to-day lives easier – from slashing grocery bills and cutting traffic jams to speeding up NHS diagnoses – as the government delivers on manifesto commitment...