

New energy upgrades for public buildings to save taxpayers money

Schools, community centres and care homes receive new awards to upgrade their buildings and save money off bills in the long term.