

New era of accountability to drive up standards for all children

Nearly 100,000 more pupils set to benefit from targeted support through expanded school improvement teams, driving up standards where it's needed most.