

New Forensic Science Regulator appointed for England and Wales

The regulator ensures that the highest standards in forensic science are met across the criminal justice system.