

New headquarters helps air cadet corps soar

Supported by the Government Flying Service (GFS), the Hong Kong Air Cadet Corps (HKACC) inaugurated its first dedicated headquarters and training centre in March. The facility offers cadets extensive amenities for training and learning, and plays a part in nurturing local aviation talent.

News.gov.hk interviewed HKACC officers to learn about the corps' new home, while representatives from the GFS spoke about its wide-ranging support for the HKACC.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature from today (May 18) in text and video format.