

New measures to protect candidates ahead of local elections

Police will be better equipped to protect candidates from harassment and intimidation under new measures announced ahead of the local and devolved elections.