

New measures unveiled to crack down on subscription traps

Government publishes consultation on new measures to tackle unfair and costly subscription traps, which cost consumers £1.6 billion annually.