

New military diplomacy training to upskill specialists in negotiation and languages, as part of new Defence Diplomacy Strategy

UK military personnel will be put through their paces as part of a new diplomacy training program – upskilling specialists in negotiation and languages as part of the UK's first Defence Diplomacy Strategy.