

New multi-million pound Army support deal for North-East firm to boost national security and growth

New agreement with Cook Defence Systems will provide vital spare parts to the British Army armoured vehicle fleet