

"New partnership" between defence and private sector set to boost UK defence sector

Major venture capitalists from across Europe can help unlock billions of pounds of private investment into UK technology and defence firms, as part of a “new partnership” between defence and private investors, the Defence Se...