

New pension rules to boost retirement investments

Regulations laid today will overhaul the way investments are managed in the Local Government Pension Scheme, a major development for millions of council workers