

New report sets out technology and research needed to reach net zero

A new report identifying the research and technology needed to meet the UK's net zero target has been released.