

New review of single living accommodation to transform military housing standards

Independent review launched to fix substandard military accommodation for around 80,000 single and unaccompanied service personnel