

New rules to prioritise recruiting care workers in England

Employers will be required to prioritise recruiting international care workers already in England before recruiting from overseas.