

New support to help farmers thrive for generations

A new fund will open for applications in September, helping farmers work together to cut costs, strengthen their businesses and unlock new opportunities.