

New theory test questions aim to boost cardiac arrest survival rate

From autumn 2025, driving theory tests will include new CPR questions and, for the first time, questions about defibrillators to boost cardiac arrest survival.