

News story: £30m boost to fast-track battlefield apps

Digital apps are set to redefine the battlefield as the Defence Secretary announces a £30m boost to fast-track agile software development technology